Restitution & Court-Fee Payment Tracker

Keep every payment, receipt, and balance in one place.

Court financial obligations pile up quietly and follow you if you lose track. Missed or unrecorded payments can affect your supervision, your record, and your peace of mind. This tracker keeps every dollar accounted for, so you always know where you stand and can prove it.

Keep every receipt and confirmation number. If a payment is ever questioned, this log is your proof.

What you owe

List each obligation separately. Restitution, court costs, fines, and supervision fees are often different accounts with different rules.

Obligation	Total owed	Paid to whom / account	Monthly due

Key contacts

Clerk of court / collections office: _____

Supervision fee contact: _____

Restitution recipient or account: _____

Payment log

Record every payment the day you make it.

Date	Which obligation	Amount	Method	Confirmation #

Running balances

Update after each payment so you always know the remaining total.

Obligation	Starting balance	Paid to date	Remaining

Notes

- If you cannot make a payment, contact the collections office before the due date and ask about adjustment. Do not simply miss it.
- Get any modified payment plan in writing. Keep this log even after you finish paying.
